

Barry Cauchon is creator and host for The King Tutorial.

He has been a Senior Project Manager in the corporate, museum and touring exhibit industries for the past 25 years.

Mr. Cauchon was the first Senior Project Manager for the 2005 blockbuster exhibit Tutankhamun and the Golden Age of the Pharaohs, the renowned King Tut tour.

With a wealth of knowledge about the King Tut exhibit and an infectious enthusiasm that students and audiences respond to, Mr. Cauchon is thrilled and ready to share his experience with your school.

GETTING THE MOST OUT OF THE KING TUT TOURING EXHIBIT

The famous King Tut exhibit comes to the Art Gallery of Ontario this fall. For students to get the most out of their visit, they need to be prepared to see the boy king.

Starting this October, Awesometalks© is proud to present The King Tutorial, an educational and live stage performance designed to break down the content of the exhibit into easy-to-understand, 'bite size' pieces.

The show incorporates a 'laugh and learn' approach to both entertain and educate the audience and covers the following topics:

- The 5-minute 'Ancient Egyptian History' Lesson.
- King Tut and other Pharaohs of Interest.
- Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous: A Pharaoh's Life and Afterlife.
- The Discovery of King Tut's Tomb.
- The Top Ten (10) MUST SEE Artifacts.
- Dos, Don'ts, Tips and other Helpful Stuff.
- King Tut Questions and Answers

The King Tutorial is ideal for school assemblies, fundraisers, and parent/student functions with audiences from 40 to 400. An adapted presentation is available for smaller groups and still contains the same great content.
